

Problem Statement

Students need a cheaper and more accessible alternative to required textbooks provided through the university. The high cost of traditional textbooks creates financial barriers, impacting their ability to succeed academically.

Details

This problem faces college students who struggle with the financial burden of purchasing expensive textbooks, especially those working on tight budgets. These students find it challenging to acquire necessary textbooks due to their steep prices, which can lead to skipping purchases and falling behind in their studies.

Accessible learning materials are essential for student success. By providing more affordable alternatives, we can enhance educational equity and support all students in achieving their academic goals.
